CO-OP

Active for more than 40 years, Wentworth's co-op program is one of the largest and most comprehensive of its kind in the nation. Every student at Wentworth must complete two semesters (a third is optional) of professional, paid work experience to graduate.

wit.edu/co-op

The Center for Cooperative Education and Career Development assists students with their co-op placements and career planning, as well as résumé writing and interview techniques.

Co-ops can be done here in Boston, but students may choose to pursue opportunities in their hometown or abroad.

Student salaries for co-op range from $14–20 an hour.

ADMISSIONS PROCESS

Wentworth practices rolling admissions.
Priority deadline for applicants is December 1
