WENTWORTH BRANDING GUIDELINES 2023

How to Use the Guidelines

This document reviews Wentworth's brand positioning and graphic identity. If you are officially representing Wentworth, you should use these components to produce institute-branded communications. You can download the elements (logos, gestures, fonts, etc.), by logging into your myWentworth account and following the link to Digital Communications or refer to the Resources section in this document for more information.

Primary Identifier

Our wordmark, or logo, is the most consistent component of our identity. It is set in a customized font called Wentworth IBM/Lab Display. Created specifically for Wentworth, this font is used for the university wordmark and for the school and division sub-branding. The Wentworth wordmark can appear in a "full" or "short" version, depending on the context.

FULL WORDMARK

For external audiences, always use the version of the Wentworth logo with "Institute of Technology" underneath, reinforcing brand positioning.

SHORT WORDMARK

The simplified version is appropriate for internal audiences already familiar with the breadth of Wentworth's academic offerings.

Secondary Identifiers

Wentworth's graphic identifiers each have a unique place in our history and represent the school and serve different purposes in expressing our brand. The 'W' logo, shield, or seal should not be used without first obtaining permission from the office of Marketing & Communications. Ensuring proper use of these identifiers is essential for maintaining brand consistency across the university.

THE 'W'

Represents the school when a technology-centered, modern image is desired. The red logo should be replaced with a logo in our primary color.

THE SHIELD

Represents the school in formal contexts when a collegiate image is desired.

Innovative, proactive, technological, futuristic, modern, industrious, corporate

Scholastic, traditional, historical, collegiate, formal, austere, elegant

Leopard Logo

The leopard mascot logo conveys our sense of school spirit. It can be used in lighthearted ways across campus to bring our community together. It does not replace the athletic fighting leopard.

THE LEOPARD SEAL

The leopard can appear within the Wentworth seal circle. The one-color version in yellow or white should be used when placing the leopard on black or dark background.

THE LEOPARD HEAD

The leopard head logo can be used independently from the Wentworth seal to represent the school to internal audiences. Follow the same placement guidelines as the leopard seal.

Logo Proportions It is important to be conscious of the amount of clean space around the logo. Ample space helps establish the importance of the logo, especially in environments where it competes with other graphic elements for attention.

CLEAR SPACE

To ensure visual balance, the logo should always be surrounded by an ample amount of space, clear of text and graphic elements. The minimum clear space required is equal to the width of the W in 'Wentworth.' The vertical space is equal to the W turned on its side. MINIMUM SIZE

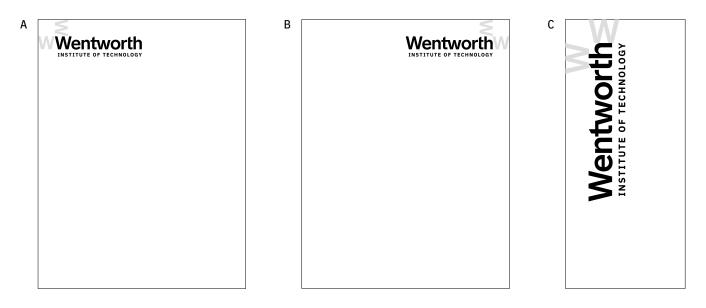

Wentworth 0.15" or 12px

For the best legibility, the long version of the logo should not appear smaller than 0.25 inches (print) or 18 pixels (screen) high while the short version can be reduced to 0.15 inches (print) or 12 pixels (screen).

Placement

The placement of the Wentworth logo should remain consistent across materials. There are several possible configurations and alignment options, so choose what works best for the composition at hand.

LOGO PLACEMENT

A — The logo may be left-aligned with the edge of the composition, with clear space equal to the height of the W in 'Wentworth' along each edge.

B — The logo may be right-aligned with the edge of the composition, with clear space equal to the height of the W in 'Wentworth' along each edge.

C — When horizontal space is limited, the wordmark can be oriented vertically. (i.e., on a banner or vertical web ad). Follow the same placement rules as outlined above.

Color Variations

The are four available colorways for the Wentworth wordmark.

ONE-COLOR LOGO

The black Wentworth wordmark is the primary logo to use in most applications. On a white or light background the logo should appear in black. On a dark color or the dark area of an image, the logo should be knocked out to white.

YELLOW LOGO

A version of the logo in yellow may be used in some instances to create variety and interest. On a dark background, use the logo in the primary shade of yellow (#ff50d). On white, or lighter backgrounds, the logo should appear in the secondary shade of yellow (#ff123f).

Incorrect Uses of Wordmark

To maintain a high and consistent level of visual sophistication, legibility, and quick recognition, the logo shouldn't be manipulated. Below are examples of some changes that should never be made.

Do NOT place the knocked out logo in an area of an image that hinders the legibility of the logo.

Do NOT change the color of the Wentworth logotype from an approved color (see page xx).

Do NOT add a drop shadow to the logo.

Do NOT replace an element of the logo or add any graphic elements such as a symbol or punctuation mark.

Do NOT manipulate or distort the logo, for example, by stretching or compressing it.

Do NOT have typographic or graphic elements fill the clear space of the logo.

School Sub-Brand

The school name appears underneath the wordmark and can be written with or without "school of" depending on the context. By maintaining this flexibility, Wentworth can deliver a tailored experience to external and internal audiences.

FULL WORDMARK

For external audiences, always use the version of the Wentworth logo with "School of," reinforcing brand positioning.

SHORT WORDMARK

This simplified version is appropriate for internal audiences already familiar with the breadth of Wentworth's academic offerings.

Division Sub-Brand As a way to link the vast network of Wentworth's departments, groups, and activities to our identity, the school name appears underneath the wordmark. ## Primary Typeface

There are four primary typefaces in Wentworth's identity system: IBM Plex Sans, IBM Plex Sans Condensed, IBM Plex Mono, and IBM Plex Serif. While the typefaces were chosen to serve different purposes, they were also selected because of their innate compatibility. The full IBM Plex font family is available to download for free on Google Fonts (https://fonts.google.com/?query=ibm+plex).

IBM PLEX SANS USED FOR TITLE, HEADERS, & BODY TEXT (IN PRINT)	IBM PLEX MONO	USED FOR CAPTIONING
abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz	abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz

1234567890	1234567890
IBM PLEX SANS CONDENSED USED FOR CREDITS AND FINE PRINT	IBM PLEX SERIF	USED FOR PULL-QUOTES & FORMAL TEXT

Alternative Fonts

When the primary typefaces are not available Arial should be used in place of IBM Plex Sans and IBM Plex Serif, respectively. These typefaces are included in the font libraries for most operating systems. Open Sans is an available typeface use solely for the web in body text, subheads, captions, and navigation text.

ACTION

When depicting students or faculty in their learning environment, they should be shown actively working. The subject should appear engaged in the environment and subject material. This technique can also be applied to student life and athletic photography.

COMPOSED

Contextual scenes establish a visual setting in addition to giving viewers an inside look into what the campus, classrooms, and labs at Wentworth are like.

FOCUSED

Emerging technology at Wentworth can be highlighted by depicting close-up shots of technical instruments, electrical and mechanical components, and complex student projects. This type of imagery can be paired with contextual and action shots or used as a background texture.

Videography

Review the Videography Guidelines for more information on how to create your own Wentworth branded video (coming soon).

EXAMPLES OF VIDEO STILLS

Videography should focus on students in labs and studios actively doing projects and creating artifacts. Look to capture those moments of deep concentration, surprise, humor, and victory while learning. Time highpaced video edits to the beats of music to generate energy and avoid audience tune out. Short videos are ideal and allow us to share on mobile devices. Wentworth should strive to show, not tell, its active learning stories to viewers.

Business Papers

The rebranded Wentworth letterhead and business cards can be ordered through Collegiate Press (coming soon). Download the letterhead template from the branding assets portal.
