A Note from Student Affairs Leadership

Greeting Families!

The return from spring break marks the quick end of the semester. Your students will spend the next few weeks completing projects and preparing for exams. Those on co-op will begin to transition out of their roles, and for some, begin the conversation on how to stay on part-time when they return to classes. This is an exciting time of year, that is filled with more sunshine and for many, a bit more stress.

This newsletter contains many campus resources that your students can utilize to help them navigate the end of the semester. It is an important reminder that advising, tutoring, and counseling are resources that are provided at no additional cost to students. Encourage them to take advantage of everything available to them.

Over the summer, I am looking forward to working with my team and my colleagues across campus to use student data from this year to better understand the student experience. And to work collectively towards our strategic pillars of Inclusive Excellence and Transformative Student Experience. We look forward to developing more opportunities for your students to engage with each other and with faculty and staff across campus. We know that the connections that our students have on campus provide so much value to their overall experience. If there is ever an opportunity for me to learn more about your students' experience at Wentworth, I encourage you to have them reach out to me. I would welcome the conversation.

I wish all our Wentworth families a healthy spring and summer and I look forward to celebrating our graduating students this April and August and welcoming our new and returning students back to campus in August. Until then, I can be reached at kossesj@wit.edu.

My best,

Jenn Kosses, Dean of Students
